

How to include the Lotus Domino offer in an xSeries purchase

Until December 31, 2001, Domino Application Server and 10 iNotes clients can be purchased for $1,399 when ordering an IBM @server xSeries server. This price represents a savings of close to 40% from the suggested retail price when these products are purchased separately. Customers can take advantage of this offer either by ordering from a reseller, or direct on ibm.com. The latter method may not be immediately obvious, so this document will explain how to go about choosing this offer when ordering an xSeries server from IBM.

Start at the xSeries homepage

When you enter ibm.com/eserver/xseries in your browser, you will see the following:
